Dear Colleague,

It is a very exciting time for the Breast Health Program at Overlake Hospital Medical Center. We recently contracted with Valley Radiologists to provide professional radiology services to you and your patients. Our relationship with the group starts on October 3. Overlake will have a contracted radiologist to help during the one-month transition period. Beginning November 1, Overlake's breast health services will be fully staffed by Valley Radiologists.

Valley Radiologists is a thriving physician partnership that has been serving the medical community since 1970. Over the years, the group has grown to nearly 30 radiologists who serve multiple hospitals and private systems.

Overlake chose Valley Radiologists for several reasons: The group exceeds FDA mammography-read requirements and the entire staff is committed to compassionate communication with patients and timely follow-up with referring physicians. A select group of breast imaging specialists will staff the Overlake Breast Health Centers with Dr. Steve Scallon operating as our Medical Director. These radiologists will provide a recognizable "face" to the Overlake community, promote consistent care, and develop close working relationships with referring clinicians, breast center staff and administration. The team includes:

- Steven E. Scallon, M.D.
- Elliot M. Sacks, M.D.
- J. Scott Bowen, M.D.
- Michael R. Nelsen, M.D.
- Mark S. Justus, M.D.

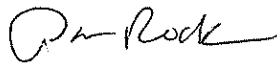

To learn more about Valley Radiologists please visit their Web site at www.vrads.com.

Overlake will continue to offer the same comprehensive services including digital mammography, breast ultrasound, stereotactic and ultrasound-guided biopsies, and breast MRI will be available on our campus to ensure early detection of breast cancer. Services are offered at three convenient locations; a screening center and a diagnostic center on Overlake's main Bellevue campus and a screening center in the Overlake Medical Center Issaquah at 5708 E. Lake Sammamish Pkwy SE.

We look forward to introducing the new team of radiologists to you and your staff.
Please join us for a networking reception at the Overlake Breast Diagnostic Center
(Suite 250 of the Overlake Medical Tower) on November 5 at 5:30 – 7:00 p.m. Please
RSVP at 688-5815.
